

ENGOT

European Network of Gynaecological Oncological Trial groups

BYLAWS

PRAGUE OCTOBER 25th, 2010

Mission

- ENGOT is a pan-European Network of Gynaecological Oncological Trial Groups supported by and part of the European Society of Gynaecological Oncology (ESGO)
- As a network of national and regional clinical trial units, ENGOT coordinates and promotes clinical trials within Europe on patients with gynaecological cancer. This coordination is particularly relevant for academic clinical trials, translational research, research on rare diseases, and for clinical trials sponsored by the industry to perform multinational studies in Europe

Membership

- New groups need to apply with information on :
 - Group structure
 - List of institutions
 - List of formerly performed trials and publications
 - Data management capacities
- There will be a vote, one vote per group present at the meeting. The candidate needs to get a majority of 75 % of the votes to be accepted as a member of ENGOT.
- In principle several groups per country are allowed, but the new group should have an additional value (representing another region/other cancer types/other focus of interest, ... compared with the already accepted ENGOT-group from that country.

- In case of application of a group from a country with already existing national group, the existing national group has the right to comment on the appropriateness of accepting another group from the same country
- Representatives of groups should be member of ESGO

Leadership

- A Chairman is appointed for 2 years
- During the last year of the chairmanship a Vice-Chairman is appointed who takes over after the former chairman
- A Past-Chairman remains Vice-Chairman for 1 year after his chairmanship stops.

Finances

- ENGOT is the clinical research group of ESGO
- ENGOT has a subaccount under the ESGO treasure ship
- Leading groups of ENGOT trials with the industry, negotiate a fee for ENGOT from the industry for setting up a study in order to make ENGOT viable and not only depending on funds from ESGO
